

April 14th, 2004 Videoconference Training: Why Do Children Need Heroes?
*The Importance of Role Models

Jennifer Birckmayer's Book Recommendations

Eat Up, Gemma by Sarah Hayes
Mama Zooms by Jane Cowen-Fletcher
Caps for Sale by Esphyr Slobodkina
The Little Engine That Could by Watty Piper

Lyrics from Peter Stewart's songs

Greeting

Hello everybody, how do you do?
Hello everybody, how do you do?
Hello everybody, how do you do?
I'm so glad to see you.

The More We Get Together

The more we get together, together, together
The more we get together
The happier we will be
Cause your friends are my friends
And my friends are your friends
The more we get together, they happier we will be

What I Learned on My Grandfather's Knee

I remember the words I learned on my grandfather's knee
He took the time to tell those precious words to me
He said my life is over but yours has just begun
Remember life is not a race or a game to be won

So take the time to enjoy the day
Tell the ones that love you, that you love them along the way
Because you are a miracle and deep inside I know
You'll make this world a better place as you grow

Slow Down

Some people you know they live their lives like a chicken without a head
They drive their cars about an inch between themselves and the car ahead
After all that wasted energy and after it's all been said
You can drive right up next to them because the light turned red
And you can tell them to slow down, don't be in a hurry
Slow down, let the other people scurry
Enjoy the day, don't rush it away
Slow down